Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. Why do you like (or dislike) this manuscript? A minimumof 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	This manuscript offers crucial insights into the link between Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) and bullying in school settings, shedding light on the prevalence and characteristics of these issues among children and adolescents. The study's focus on intervention strategies involving family, school, and societal support is particularly commendable, as it provides a holistic approach to addressing the problem. I find this manuscript highly relevant as it not only addresses the immediate behavioral concerns but also emphasizes the long-term mental health implications. The thorough analysis and evidence-based recommendations enhance its value for the scientific community, although expanding the research to include more diverse populations would further strengthen the conclusions.
Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title)	The current title of the articleis suitable as it clearly conveys the main focus of the study. However, to enhance clarity and specificity, an alternative title could be:"Exploring the Relationship Between ADHD and Campus Bullying: Prevalence, Impact, and Intervention Strategies in Primary and Secondary Schools."This title highlights the key elements of the research, including the relationship between ADHD and bullying, the scope of the study, and the focus on intervention strategies.
Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? Do you suggest the addition (or deletion) of some points in this section? Please write your suggestions here.	The abstract is largely comprehensive, covering the background, objectives, methods, results, and conclusions of the study effectively. However, I suggest adding more specific details on the key findings and statistics related to ADHD and bullying rates to enhance clarity. Additionally, briefly mentioning the main intervention strategies proposed would provide a more complete picture.
Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate?	The subsections and structure of the manuscript appear appropriate for the topic. The manuscript is logically organized into distinct sections such as the introduction, research progress, and intervention strategies, which facilitate a clear understanding of the subject. Each subsection addresses a specific aspect of the research, making the manuscript easy to follow. However, the inclusion of a dedicated section for the limitations and future research directions could further enhance the structure. This would provide a more comprehensive view of the study's scope and potential areas for further investigation.

This manuscript is scientifically robust and technically sound due to its thorough literature review and comprehensive analysis of 54 papers over the past 20 years. The methodology is clearly defined, ensuring that the findings are based on reliable and diverse sources. The statistical data provided on ADHD prevalence and its correlation with bullying incidents are well-supported and enhance the validity of the conclusions. Additionally, the proposed multi-level interventions are grounded in evidence-based practices, making the recommendations practical and actionable.
Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestions of additional references, please mention them in the review form. :	The references in the manuscript are both sufficient and recent, covering a broad range of studies and data relevant to the topic. The inclusion of 54 papers from the past 20 years provides a solid foundation for the research. However, it might be beneficial to include more recent studies published in the last 2-3 years to ensure the most up-to-date data and perspectives are represented. Adding recent meta-analyses or large-scale studies on ADHD and bullying could further strengthen the manuscript's foundation.
